Educating, Engaging and Empowering Chesterfield County Residents

Chesterfield County in Partnership with Virginia Tech and Virginia State University

Issue 1, Volume 1

December 2014

Who are we?

Agriculture and Natural Resources (ANR)

We are proud to serve our residents with numerous lawn and garden programs and services and feature the help from Master Gardener volunteers. Master Gardener volunteers are here to answer any lawn, landscape or garden questions you may have.

Family and Consumer Sciences (FCS)

FCS strengthens Virginia families, including those with limited resources, assists youth and adult participants in developing wellness life skills related to health, diet, and nutrition, exercise, family financial management, and parenting.

4-H Youth Development

4-H is a community of young people across America who are learning leadership, citizenship, and life skills. 4-H, the largest comprehensive youth development program in the nation, educates young people, ages 5 to 18, through a variety of experiential techniques that encourage hands-on, active learning.

James River Soil and Water Conservation District (JRSWCD)

JRSWCD provides landowners and farmers in Chesterfield County with free technical and financial assistance for erosion prevention, pasture management, manure storage, and nutrient management on agricultural land.

A Message from T. Michael Likins, Cooperative Extension Director

Hello and welcome to the inaugural issue of Chesterfield Cooperative Extension's newsletter. My staff and I are excited about this new venture in providing educational and learning opportunities that will help you make positive changes to many aspects of your life. We welcome your feedback and suggestions for future newsletters. On behalf of my staff, thank you for signing up and we look forward to serving you in the future.

Home Gardening with Chesterfield Master Gardeners

Interested in making your home and garden more sustainable? It's easy!

Sign up for Landscape for Life educational series!

Through instructor-led presentations, class discussions and activities, you will understand how to get the most out of water, how to build healthy soils, how to use native and climate adapted plants as well as how to find environmentally friendly landscape materials.

Classes meet Tuesday's from 6:30-8:30 pm at the Chesterfield Extension Office beginning 2/17/15 through 3/24/15.

Program Cost is $75. Call 804-751-4401 or email vce@chesterfield.gov to register.

Are you prepared for "Slaying the Dragons of Garden Myths" and "Raising Chickens in Chesterfield County" ?

Chesterfield Master Gardeners will be hosting FREE public seminars featuring these topics and more beginning in January. Visit our website for dates, times and locations, as well as registration information.

Not sure when to fertilize your lawn?

Our Grass Roots Program will help you learn how to address soil deficiencies and other problems so you can have a lush green, environmentally-sound lawn.

The Grass Roots program is limited to the first 400 clients and has a program cost of $25.

For more information, visit our website!

Want to learn more about your landscape?

The Learn Your Landscape program can help. A Master Gardener volunteer will visit your yard to evaluate your growing conditions, plant placement and more. There is a program cost of $30 and you can find more details and registration information on our web site!

News for the Young and Young at Heart with 4-H
